

Comparison of Population Sizes and Electoral Votes Amongst United States (excluding Hawaii and Alaska)

- California, Texas, and Florida have the largest percentage of populations.
- In general, the amount of Electoral Votes correspond with the states' population,
- However, there are some discrepancies as seen by these examples:
  - New York has the same amount of Electoral Votes as Florida, although Florida is larger.
  - Also, California has a bit lower Electoral Vote percentage compared to their Population percentage.

Population Data: <https://www.infoplease.com/us/states/state-population-by-rank>

Electoral Votes Data: <https://www.britannica.com/topic/United-States-Electoral-College-Votes-by-State-1787124>

